

SERVICE YOU CAN COUNT ON

PDI Pricebook Services

There's something special about a well-run centralized pricebook and its impact on your people at the store. Imagine a world where your cashier smiles and greets a customer, quickly scans their merchandise and the price is just right. Your manager smoothly checks in a delivery with their handheld device, every item scans and at the right cost. Your scan rate is at an all-time high and your shrink is at an all-time low. There's full inventory transparency because transactions are captured electronically with item level detail. Inventory values are precise and accurate for all department types.

Can this sort of operation bliss really exist? Absolutely! PDI's Pricebook Services team helps customers across the country achieve their goals by building and maintaining the ideal centralized pricebook.

Peace of Mind You Deserve

With more than 130 collective years of retail pricebook and merchandise inventory experience, the Pricebook Services team is capable of handling even the most complex of pricebook maintenance needs. But they're not alone. Our analysts have access to the full range of PDI resources, including the developers who built PDI/Enterprise, the consultants who implement it, and the customer service team that supports it. You can rest easy knowing your pricebook is in reliable hands. Here's a look at what we bring to the table.

- Maximum use of the latest technology
- Established relationships with most major grocery wholesalers
- Adherence to standardization of all item master characteristics, such as descriptions, sizes, brands, manufacturers, packaging, etc.
- Most current knowledge about POS enhancements and performance standards
- Access to the collective industry and technical knowledge available at PDI

A Full Benefits Package

Businesses are constantly looking for ways to improve performance, increase efficiency, and implement strategies that maximize the bottom line. The effects of outsourcing your pricebook maintenance has the potential to reverberate throughout several parts of your organization. And when it comes to human resources, the potential impact is enormous.

- Strategic reassignment of resources to other divisions
- More time for marketing and analysis
- Reduced need for intensive cross-training and retraining
- Greater latitude in scheduling time off for critical personnel
- Workforce reduction and optimization
- Lower healthcare expenses

Engaging the Pricebook Services team allows you to use your staff more efficiently, save time and money, and enjoy significant, strategic benefits. Let us take the stress out of pricebook maintenance today.